EDITORIAL: Enough is enough

Metro Manila residents are being crucified this summer on the twin planks of a severe water shortage and recurring power outages, all amid sweltering record-high temperatures brought about by the El Niño phenomenon.

There is precious little that we can do about the weather, but it is now clear that the government agencies and private corporations that were tasked to ensure we have a stable supply of water and power—bare necessities for civilized living—have failed us miserably.

Manila Water, the concessionaire for Metro Manila's east zone, has apologized for this failure, but that apology is hardly sufficient to compensate the millions of its customers who suffered, many of them for days or weeks without water service. The belated apology from the Zobels—the billionaires who own the private water concessionaire—meant nothing to the thousands of small businesses that had to close shop because of they couldn't continue operating without water. They may not realize it just yet, but the water service interruptions are not a mere inconvenience, and the public disdain for their company will quickly turn to rage in the punishing summer heat.

Manila Water, the concessionaire for Metro Manila's east zone, has apologized for this failure, but that apology is hardly sufficient to compensate the millions of its customers who suffered, many of them for days or weeks without water service. The belated apology from the Zobels—the billionaires who own the private water concessionaire—meant nothing to the thousands of small businesses that had to close shop because of they couldn't continue operating without water. They may not realize it just yet, but the water service interruptions are not a mere inconvenience, and the public disdain for their company will quickly turn to rage in the punishing summer heat.

Then, just when we thought we had seen it all, the National Grid Corporation of the Philippines and the Manila Electric Co. began carrying out rotating power outages, depriving neighborhoods of power for as long as three hours a day. One of the reasons, they said, was the lack of supply from power generating plants, some of which had gone offline unexpectedly.

The Senate, as it should, has announced that it will evaluate the performance of all concerned corporations amid the water and electricity shortage.

The current sad state of affairs, we are told, is all the more reason that the New Public Service Act must be passed to review the franchises and performance of public utilities, including those involved in the transmission and distribution of electricity, and waterworks and sewerage systems. The legislation recognizes public utilities as natural monopolies that must be regulated and penalizes those that do not perform up to par.

But million-peso fines may be inconsequential to large corporations with billions of pesos in profit. More importantly, these fines do not go to the consumers who suffer the poor service. President Rodrigo Duterte recently ranted—with good cause—against an agreement with Maynilad Water Services, one of the private water concessionaires, that barred the government from interfering in the operation of its water system. The private company took "interference" to mean delaying a scheduled rate increase and sued the government before an arbitration court in Singapore for P3.42 billion, a case that it recently won.

Enough is enough.

It is time that the government—and our legislature—put consumers ahead of the private corporations that put their profits ahead of the public good

No takeover of PHL assets in China loans, say DOF execs

The Department of Finance (DOF) has allayed misapprehensions over a possible Chinese takeover of the Philippines' patrimonial assets.

There is no provision in the loan agreements signed between the two countries under the Duterte presidency that includes any form of collateral even in the unlikely scenario of the country failing to pay its debts to China.

Finance Undersecretary Bayani Agabin said that concerns over the waiver-of-sovereign-immunity clause in the loan accord between the Philippines and China for the Chico River Irrigation Project are unfounded, given that this part of the agreement only allows the "counterparties" to seek arbitration in case of a loan default, but not a Chinese takeover of any of the country's properties.

Agabin said the waiver-of-immunity and arbitration clauses are standard in any loan agreements forged between states. These clauses are present not only in the loan agreements between the Philippines and China under the current government, but also in other loans accords entered into by the past administrations, with, among others, France and China.

"The waiver-of-immunity clause is usually included as a standard provision in loan agreements to enable the lender to bring the borrower before an arbitral court in case of a default on the loan," Agabin said. "No takeover of our state assets is possible because we do not provide any collateral for any of the loan agreements we have entered into with any government."

Agabin also said it is very unlikely that the Philippines will default on any of its loans, more so now with its strong fiscal position and low debt-to-GDP (gross domestic product) ratio on the Duterte watch.

Moreover, he maintained that the unlikely scenario of the Philippines defaulting on its loan payments is far-fetched because a Philippine law—Presidential Decree (PD) No. 1177—mandates the automatic appropriation of funds under the annual national budget for debt service.

Assuming, for the sake of argument, that the highly improbable scenario of the Philippines defaulting on its loan occurs, any ruling by the arbitral court that would compel the government to pay its debt would have to conform with the provisions of Philippine Constitution and public policy and could only be enforced if and when Philippine courts rule that such an arbitral decision is binding on our part, Agabin said.

Finance Undersecretary Mark Dennis Joven said, meanwhile, it is incorrect to compare the Philippines with other countries like Sri Lanka that had failed to pay their loans to China, because of the starkly different numbers when it comes to what they owe and what their respective economies produce. In terms of the debt-to-GDP ratio, Sri Lanka's is almost 80 percent, while the Philippines' ratio is around 40 percent. The debt-to-GDP ratio compares what a country owes to what it produces. Hence, a lower debt-to-GDP ratio indicates a slimmer probability for a country to default on its loan.

In the World Economic Forum's Global Competitiveness Index 2017-2018, the Philippines ranked among the top 40 countries with low debt-to-GDP ratios of less than 40 percent. The Philippines ranks 33rd with a debt-to-GDP ratio of 33.7 percent while Sri Lanka ranked 109th with 77.3 percent. The WEF index is based on data from the International Monetary Fund, which tracks the general government gross debt of countries in relation to GDP.

Earlier, Finance Secretary Carlos Dominguez III reassured the public that the Philippines will not fall into a "debt trap" to any other country as the government expands its infrastructure investments through concessional loan financing from its development partners.

Dominguez, at the same time, reiterated that in conformity with the Constitution and our laws, none of the pipeline projects funded with official development assistance (ODA) from countries like Japan and China allow for the appropriation or takeover of domestic assets in the event of a failure to pay, which, he said, is a very unlikely scenario.

The government's borrowing program, Dominguez noted, remains "very conservative in the sense that we only borrow to invest in projects that will generate economic gains which are greater than the borrowing cost."

According to Dominguez, no infrastructure project is funded through ODA without first going through a rigorous system of reviews and approvals by the Cabinet and the President, and unless it is certain that the project is economically viable and highly beneficial for the Filipino people.

Dominguez said the government's debt is carefully structured to ensure that it does not borrow without raising its own capital for infrastructure projects, while at the same time sourcing a significant portion of financing from the local debt market to minimize exposure to adverse external factors.

He said that as of 2018, the government's project debt exposure was only 0.66 percent to China and 9 percent to Japan in relation to the total debt. By 2022, when most of the financing for the "Build, Build, Build" program will have been accessed, the country's project debt to China will account for 4.5 percent, while that of Japan's will be twice as large at 9.5 percent of the total debt.

Dominguez further said the highly concessional loans and grants received by the government to help fund the Duterte administration's "Build, Build, Build" program will help make the economy fully competitive, create jobs, open more business opportunities, bring down logistics costs and realize better-distributed growth.

ANGARA TO PINOYS: LIVE A MORE ECO-FRIENDLY LIFESTYLE

Reelectionist Senator Sonny Angara urged Filipinos to make a conscious effort to live a more environmentally friendly lifestyle as the Philippines joins the rest of the world in celebrating Earth Day on April 22.

Angara said the annual event to spread awareness about the environment does not have to be limited to one single day, believing that "Earth Day must be observed every day of the year."

"Raising awareness about the importance of protecting the only planet we have and the need to take action should be more than an annual activity," said the lawmaker, who is running under the platform "Alagang Angara."

He added: "It doesn't need to end after April 22. It should continue every day and become a regular part of our lifestyle."

With a few easy lifestyle changes, Angara said people can help save the planet for future generations. "We can start by eliminating the need for plastic bags and other single-use plastic products that end up in landfills or polluting our rivers and oceans," he said. Angara said it is high time to think positively about reducing plastics and take effective action to tackle plastic pollution, which has devastating effects on the environment and marine life.

As early as 2010 when he was still representative of the lone district of Aurora province in Congress, Angara pushed for legislative measures seeking to reduce the use of single-use plastic bags, promote the use of reusable bags, and establish at-store retrieval and recycling mechanism for plastic bags.

Apart from avoiding utilizing single-use plastic products, Angara said the public could help make the planet a little greener by using energy-efficient light bulbs and appliances, conserving water, taking public transport and carpooling to work, among others. "Let us celebrate Earth Day today and every day by making a conscious effort to live simply, reduce our impact and educate others to do the same," Angara said.

More than one billion people in over 190 countries are expected to take part in the celebration of the 49th anniversary of Earth Day, making it the largest civic observance in the world. This year's theme is "Protect Our Species."

Holy Week ...

MANILA — The traditional celebration of the Holy Week was generally peaceful, the Philippine National Police (PNP) said on Sunday.

"Yes, observance of Holy Week is generally peaceful," PNP spokesperson, Col. Bernard Banac told the Philippine News Agency.

Banac attributed the peaceful observance of Holy Week to the strict implementation of the "Oplan Lig-tas Sumvac 2019", nationwide coordinated police operations aim to provide security during Lenten season and summer vacation.

"Deployment of personnel will focus now on terminals as activities and movement of the traveling public will be more in these areas," Banac said.

Banac reiterated his appeal to the travelers, including those using their own vehicles, to take extra precaution by observing traffic rules and speed limits to prevent vehicular accidents.

He also advised the commuters to avoid wearing expensive pieces of jewelry and to look after their belongings and constantly check them.

PNP chief, Gen. Oscar Albayalde announced that the PNP has deployed 91,000 cops nationwide "for route security target hardening, and security operations in places of convergence and transportation hubs". (PNA)

UNESCO, CPJ 'pleased' with PTFoMS work, initiatives

By EJ Roque

MANILA — The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) and the Committee to Protect Journalists (CPJ), an international body dedicated to the protection of journalists worldwide, have hailed the initiatives and work being done by the Presidential Task Force on Media Security (PTFoMS).

PTFoMS executive director, Undersecretary Jose Joel Sy Egco discussed recently with representatives of UNESCO and the CPJ the accomplishments registered by the task force in less than three years after its creation.

President Rodrigo Duterte created the PTFoMS soon after he assumed the presidency in 2016 in response to the violent assaults against media workers in the country, many of which have remained unresolved.

In their recent meeting with Egco, CPJ Asia program coordinator Dr. Steven Butler, CPJ board chair Kathleen Carroll, and Queensland University (Australia) Journalism and Communications chair, Prof. Peter Greste who represented UNESCO, have vowed to keep in touch with the PTFoMS for developments in Philippine journalism.

During their discussions, Egco pointed out that in its 2018 Global Impunity Index (GII) report, the CPJ noted with optimism that while the Philippines remained at its previous No. 5 ranking, it had significantly improved its status in terms of protecting journalists.

Egco also highlighted the fact that the Reporters Without Borders (RSF) has also delisted the Philippines from the top 5 Most Dangerous Countries in the World for Journalists on December 2018.

PTFoMS chief investigator Police Lt. Col. Eder Collantes gave a run-down on the updates on cases of violence against media practitioners. Of the 58 victims in the Nov. 23, 2009 Maguindanao Massacre, 32 were journalists covering the filing of certificate of candidacy of then town mayor Ismael "Toto" Mangudadatu for Maguindanao governor.

Mangudadatu, whose wife was one of the 58 massacre victims, subsequently ousted then Gov. Andal "Unsay" Ampatuan Jr. He earlier said press freedom in the country has significantly improved since PTFoMS' creation in 2016.

Egco reiterated his earlier promise to resign if the perpetrators of the 2009 Maguindanao massacre will not be convicted.

Among the others who attended the PTFoMS meeting with the UNESCO and CPJ representatives were Publishers Association of the Philippines Inc. (PAPI) President Nelson Santos and National Press Club vice president Paul Gutierrez. (PNA)

Dominguez urges ASEAN states to share efforts in foiling global terrorism financing schemes

The Philippines has underscored the need for member-states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) to share their efforts and initiatives in deterring money laundering schemes, which have been proven to be among the primary tools being used to fund international terrorist activities.

Finance Secretary Carlos Dominguez III said that on the part of the Philippines, its enactment of Republic Act (RA) No. 10168 or the Terrorism Financing Prevention and Suppression Act of 2012 represents the country's firm commitment to fight global terrorism and its financing.

Dominguez said criminalizing terrorism financing under RA 10168, has strengthened the Philippines' efforts to trace and freeze funds used or being planned to be used to carry out terrorist attacks.

"The Philippines is currently extending efforts to stifle the occurrence of illicit trade activity. Regardless, illicit trade activity continues to pose a high risk to the country. Moreover, money laundering contributes to terrorism financing, the threat of which has been categorized as high risk. The ASEAN Member-States can thus share their efforts and initiatives in deterring this problem," Dominguez said during the recently concluded 23rd ASEAN Finance Ministers Meeting in Chiang Rai, Thailand.

Among the ASEAN members, the Philippines is considered as one of the countries with the lowest money laundering risk although illicit revenue flows remain a problem.

In the Philippine setting, Dominguez said "close cooperation with relevant intelligence and law enforcement agencies is essential in order to trace, seize and forfeit funds used or about to be used for terrorism financing, and hurdle impediments, such as bank secrecy laws, to ensure the successful prosecution" of this crime.

He said legislative amendments to support the legal and administrative framework for the automatic exchange of information with other foreign tax authorities is currently pending in the Philippine Congress.

CAVITE PPMC JOINS THE 2019 SEARCH FOR OUTSTANDING LOCAL PROJECT MONITORING COMMITTEE IN CALABARZON

Cavite Provincial Project Monitoring Committee (PPMC) Chairperson and Provincial Planning and Development Coordinator Mr. Jesus I. Barrera welcomed regional evaluators from the National Economic Development Authority (NEDA), the Department of Budget and Management (DBM) and the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) during the meeting and validation for the 2019 Search for Outstanding Local Project Monitoring Committee in Calabarzon held on April 16, 2019 at the Ceremonial Hall of the Provincial Capitol in Trece Martires City. Cavite PPMC, in a bid to advance its monitoring and evaluation activities joined the search and was among those short-listed during the desk review on March 19 at the NEDA regional office in Calamba City, Laguna.

Ms. Gied Evangelista of NEDA IV-A provided a brief overview of the 2019 Search for Outstanding Local Project Monitoring Committee in Calabarzon with emphasis on the primary goal of the program to motivate Local Project Monitoring Committees and identify model LPMCs to provide a benchmark in terms of project monitoring and evaluation mechanisms.

Ms. Rujen A. Polo, OIC-CPMS of DBM-RO IV-

A, Engr. Arnel Tolon of DILG-RO-IV-A and Ms. Evangelista carefully reviewed the prepared documents of the Cavite Local Project Monitoring Committee, which include the Executive Order that reorganized PPMC, trainings provided to members, work and financial plan, plus the project monitoring plan and accomplishments in 2018.

During the validation, several points were discussed and areas for improvement were raised which will aid in the future initiatives of the PPMC and can be rolled out to the LPMCs in the different cities and municipalities in Cavite.

The evaluation committee also recognized some commendable accomplishments of the PPMC including the detailed field inspection reports with corresponding photos and project status which manifest the commitment of the members on their work to assess project implementation. The team also lauded the active participation of PPMC members from civic organizations who do not receive any remuneration for their partnership with the local government. On the other hand, Ms. Polo looked for committee reports and recommended that such documents be submitted to the

PNPA, one of the best changes that works for women

Being one of the women who had finished the race as a PNPA graduate is the best change Sansiklab Class Jail Inspector Karen Joy Tuviera has achieved so far.

Relating to the theme, "We Make Change Work for Women," she said: "Itong opportunity na ibinigay sa amin to join the Philippine National Police Academy (PNPA) and to graduate as one, ito na iyong pinakamalaking change na ibinigay sa mga kababaihang kagaya ko (Being given the opportunity to join PNPA and graduate as one is the biggest change given to us women)."

She even encouraged all other women who are interested to join PNPA to give it a try. With determination and God's guidance, she said any woman can make it through just like what she did.

"Sa lahat po ng graduates ng Philippine National Police Academy, lagi lamang po nating tandaan iyong justice, integrity and service kung bakit kami pumasok talaga dito sa loob. And serve the public!"

As an empowered woman and a privileged PNPA graduate, she also challenged all her fellow PNPA alumni to keep in mind the very reason they entered the Academy, which is to serve the Filipino people.

In a personal note, she said her sister and her single parent mother are proof that today's women have changed for the better, "Kaya nilang gawin lahat nang kayang gawin ng lahat ng mga kabalakihan (They can do whatever men can do)."

was able to raise her and her siblings well and support her in her dream of becoming a uniformed civil servant in spite of being a lone parent and provider to their family.

Mom Ava said that her daughter, Karen Joy, is selfless and it is really her dream to serve the country. "Ito na po iyong paraan para makapaglingkod talaga, binigyan siya ng Ama ng pagkakataon (This is her way of serving, the Father God gave her this opportunity)," she expressed.

Ava also recounted that her daughter had been through so much as a PNPA cadet which has molded her to be the woman she is now---empowered as she was strengthened and enriched by her experiences in the Academy.

This year's batch is pegged the PNPA class that has highly manifested women empowerment since 23 percent of the total number of graduates were female. Female cadets have increased over the past years.

Aside from that, six out of the 10 topnotchers of the Sansiklab Class 2019 are women. This goes to show that women are continuously empowered in the only law enforcement academy in the country, the PNPA.

The life of Jail Officer Tuviera is one legitimate testimony that our society is making change work for their good. One of the best changes is the increasing number of uniformed women like her who are serving the country with all their strength, soul and heart. (Joy Gabrido, PIA4A) regional project monitoring committee on a quarterly basis for full compliance.

Mr. Barrera took the opportunity to solicit suggestions and some tips to further improve the work flow and reporting system of the monitoring committee. He also asked on how the province can give incentives to members especially those from the non-government organizations. The PPMC secretariat also took note of how to monitor implementation schedule, with consideration to the targets and program of works, as per Engr. Arnel Tolon.

Over-all, the meeting which was attended by the OIC-Provincial Budget Officer Ms. Ma. Dulce Tangco, Provincial General Services Officer Ferdinand Belamide, Internal Auditor Maribel Bernal, OIC-Provincial Information Officer Evelyn Reyes and other committee members from different offices of the provincial government became a leap forward to further improve the system and efficiently carry out project monitoring tasks to achieve the dream of becoming the Most Outstanding Local Project Monitoring Committee in the region.

Mga Sanhi Ng Uric Acid?

Katulad ng nabanggit na, ang uric acid ang nagiging dahilan kung bakit ka nagkaroon ng gout ang isang tao. Ang karamdamang ito ay kinokonsidera ngang basura sa katawan na kailangang ilabas sa pamamagitan ng pag-ihing. Pero kung ito ay iiiihi nang maayos, o mabilis na makakapag-imbak ang katawan ng uric acid, malaki ang tsansa ng pagkakaroon ng karamdaman.

Agapan na ito bago pa man lumala. Mas mabuting ikaw ay may alam tungkol sa paggamit ng mga halamang gamot sa uric acid. Pero bago rito, mahalagang alam mo kung ano ang mga sanhi ng may mataas na uric acid. Narito ang ilan:

- * Kapamilyang may mataas ding uric acid
- * Mabilis tumaba o sobrang timbang
- * May kasalukuyan nang karamdaman gaya ng sakit sa bato
- * Malakas sa pag-inom ng alak at iba pang katulad nito
- * Pag-inom ng gamot na nagiging dahilan ng paglabas ng ihi
- * Base naman sa pag-aaral, ilan sa mga major na sintomas ng gout ang:
- * Matinding sakit ng kasukasuan na umaabot hanggang 24 oras
- * Sobrang sakit ng katawang tumatagal nang ilang araw
- * Namamaga at namumulang kasukasuan

Mga Epektibong Panlunas Sa Uric Acid

Kung may may uric acid ka ito ay imposibleng gumaling kung hindi ka iiwas sa mga bawal sa may uric acid. Hindi ka rin gagaling hangga't hindi ka pa nalalapatan ng gamot na nakakapagpa-normal ng uric acid. Isa na sa mga pinakamabisa ang halamang gamot sa uric acid. Mahalagang alam mo kung ano ang normal o tipikal na dami ng uric acid sa iyong katawan at ito ay hindi dapat lumagpas sa 6 milligrams per deciliter. Ang totoo niyan, wala pang panlunas na nadidiskubre para sa sakit na uric acid.

Hindi man ganap na nalulunasan ang nasabing karamdaman, ang pag-inom naman ng angkop na gamot ay nakatutulong na maging normal ang bilang ng uric acid. Nakakatulong ito para makontrol ang paglala ng sakit. Ang pagpunta sa doktor ang pinakamabuting gawin para maagapan ang pagdami ng uric acid sa katawan. Bukod pa rito, ang mag-ehersisyo araw-araw bilang isa pang paraan para maiwasan ang pag-atake at pagsumpong ng sintomas ng gout o uric acid. Iwasan na rin ang mga pagkaing bawal sa may uric acid.

Pansit-Pansitan: Mabisang Gamot Sa Uric Acid

Kung maghahanap ka ng mga babasahing nagsasabi ukol sa mga gamot sa uric acid, halos wala kang makikitang partikular na gamot lalo na ng halaman. Pero ang pinaka-ordinaryo at kalimitang lumilitaw sa mga search engines ay ang halamang pansit-pansitan. Base sa mga pag-aaral, ito ang pinakamabuting halamang gamot sa uric acid. Ito rin ay mabisang gamot para sa sakit sa bato.

Ito ay herbal na halamang kalimitang tumutubo sa mamasa-masa at malilim na paligid katulad ng gilid ng bahay, ilalim ng puno, kanal, dingding at paso ng halaman. Ang pansit-pansitan ay pakalat-kalat lamang na parang damong-ligaw kaya napakadali nitong hanapin.

Siguruhing tama ang mga pinipitas na halaman bilang gamot sa uric acid. Para malaman ang ito, ang pansit-pansitan ay berdeng dahon na puso ang hugis. Ito ay may mga maliliit na buto na animo'y nakakapit sa sangang hugis pansit. Ang nasabing sangay ay matatagpuan sa tuktok ng halaman. Kahit na naturingang damong ligaw lamang, ang pansit-pansitan ay isa sa mga aprubado at rekomendadong halaman ng Department of Health (DOH). Ito rin ang madalas na ginagamit para sa gamot sa rayuma o arthritis.

Isa man ang halamang gamot sa uric acid pero ito tiyak namang pinakamabisa sa lahat. Madali rin itong matagpuan at hindi na kinakailangan pang gumastos at bilhin. Higit sa lahat, kumonsulta muna sa doktor para makasiguro sa kondisyon ng kalusugan.

Pansit-Pansitan Bilang Pinakamabisang Gamot Sa Uric Acid

Isa na ang uric acid o gout sa mga pinaka-ordinaryong sakit ngayon. Baka nga ikaw ay dumaraing na rinse sakit na ito. Marami sa mga Pinoy sa panahong ito ang nakakaranas ng ganitong karamdaman. Ito marahil ay dahil sa kanilang mga kinakain. Kadalasan, maririnig sa mga usapang uric acid ang mga maling kinakain at iniinom bilang pangunahing dahilan ng pagkakaroon nito. Subalit paano nga ba ito malulunasan. Mayroon bang gamot sa uric acid na puwedeng subukan?

Karaniwang itinuturing na basurang kemikal ang sakit na ito na madalas makita sa katawan ng isang tao. Naiipon ito sa tuwing tinutunaw ng digestive system ang isang kemikal na tinatawag na purine. Ito ay makikita sa mga pagkain katulad ng atay at mushroom. Karaiwang nililinis ang uric ng mga batong matatagpuan sa dugo. Inilalabas ng mga ito sa katawan ang uric acid sa pamamagitan ng ihi.

Paano Nagkakaroon Ng Uric Acid O Gout?

Alam mo ba kung ano ang uric acid? Ang sobrang taas ng uric acid ay maaaring maipon sa iyong katawan. At, kapag naiipon ito sa loob lamang ng napakaikling panahon, ang kondisyon ay nauuwi sa sakit na kilala sa medical term na 'hyperuricemia'. Kaugnay nito, ang sobrang taas ng konsentrasyon ng uric acid sa ating dugo ay maaaring maging uric crista. Kapag tumagal, ang uric crystal na ito ay maaaring maimbak sa mga malalambot na tissue at hugpungan ng mga buto. Ang mga naipong ito ay may mala-karayom na kirstal ang itsura. Ito na ang nagiging sanhi ng pagkakaroon ng sakit ng gout.

Ang gout ay kilala rin sa tawag na gouty arthritis. Ito ay isang sobrang sakit na uri ng arthritis na nagiging dahilan ng pagtaas ng konsentrasyon ng uric acid sa katawan. Ang sobrang sakit na pag-atake ng mga gout symptoms ay puwedeng magmula sa paa, partikular na sa hinlalaki. Ang ganitong karanasan ay isa sa mga sintomas ng uric acid. Maaari ring mamaga ang mga sakong, braso, siko at tuhod. Ang ganitong mga klase ng sakit ay puwedeng magtagal ilang araw sa mga unang yugto pa lamang ng sakit.

Puwedeng magtagal ang sakit sa uric acid habang lumalala ang kundisyon. Kaya naman dapat na itong maagapan at gamutin sa simula pa lamang na maramdaman ang sintomas. Nagtatanong ka na marahil kung anong mabisang gamot sa uric acid ang makatutulong na panimulang lunas. Epektibong pamamaraan ang halamang gamot sa uric acid dahil ito ay garantisadong ligtas kung susubukan. Ang ganitong uri ng medikasyon ay walang halong kemikal kaya hindi na kailangan pang mag-alala sa allergic reaction.

Napaka-importanteng gamutin kaagad ang uric acid. Base sa mga pag-aaral, kung ito ay hindi kaagad magagamot, maaari na itong permanenteng makasira sa mga kasukasuan at bato sa katawan. Ang uric acid ay mas karaniwang nararanasan ng mga kalalakihan partikular na ng mga lalakeng may edad 40-50 taon. Ayon din sa mga pananaliksik, mayroon nang mahigit anim na milyong taong may edad na sa buong mundo ang na-diagnose na may gout o may mataas na uric acid.

GO NEGOSYO CREATIVITY AND INNOVATION MENTORSHIP GOES TO SM MEGAMALL!

The 16th rollout of Go Negosyo's Mentor ME On Wheels was one for the books as it showcased Filipino creativity and innovativeness during its special installment that happened on April 8, 2019, at the Mega Fashion Hall, SM Megamall.

"With the right mindset and level of creativity and innovation, most of you will shine and persevere in the business community. With Go Negosyo and DTI working together, and also with the help of the private sector, we will be here to mentor you especially in areas on how to use and source money to grow your business and on how to reach more markets for your products and services." Presidential Adviser for Entrepreneurship and Go Negosyo Founder Joey Concepcion said.

He also added, "We will do our best to coach and teach you. Hopefully, you have the skill, now you have to find the market. And these mentors are here to improve your skill and help guide you as to how you market that skill."

Creativity and innovation are considered as great attributes to a successful business model. With these two, artists who are part of the different arts industries such as performing arts, visual arts, fashion and lifestyle, events, crafts, culinary arts, digital arts, and advertising and publishing can turn their passion and creativity into successful enterprises.

Go Negosyo, in partnership with the Department of Trade and Industry, conducted a special installment of Mentor ME On Wheels which focused on Filipino creativity and innovation. The program has traveled long from Luzon, Visayas and Mindanao and eyes to reach a total of 30 cities across the Philippines also with the goal to bring free mentorship closer to every Filipino. The leg was attended by more than 500 mentees and 100 mentors from the creative and non-creative industry.

The event was also graced by DTI Sec. Ramon Lopez and Former Presidential Adviser for Political Affairs Francis Tolentino.

"Ang maganda kasi sa creativity and innovation yun bang it separates great companies to good companies. What keeps a company going is really creativity and innovation. Continuous innovation is the key... Big companies would even need innovation for their business model to continue and even their business models would have to be innovative otherwise maiwan po at matatabunan ng ibang up and coming entrepreneurs. The other good thing about instilling creativity and innovation in your business model is it really elevates your business model, value adding," Sec. Lopez highlighted.

MMOW Creativity and Innovation presented mentors from the creative industry who imparted their know-how and technical skills to the participants. Mentors from the creative industry were Bernie Liu, CEO & President of Golden ABC Inc.; Rajo Laurel, Fashion Designer and Founder of House of Laurel; Jay Aldegue, President of Island Souvenirs Group; Zarah Juan, Founder of Zarah Juan; and 100 more mentors! Moreover, Go Negosyo mentors from the non-creative industry also shared their expertise during the event. In the list were Rikki Dee, CEO Foodlink Group and Joel Santos, Managing Director and President THAMES International - Entrepreneurs School of Asia among others.

"There is so much creativity in Filipinos. Hindi tayo mauubusan ng creativity, you know why? Because we're fun people, we love to enjoy life as it should be enjoyed. Because of that, we have a very good foundation for creativity... This theme of creativity and innovation is very timely because to magnify the creativity of Filipinos we need innovation. Creativity alone will not bring us to a global platform. It is a good foundation but we need innovation," said Golden ABC's Bernie Liu.

SM Supermalls is the official venue partner of Mentor Me on Wheels Creativity & Innovation. Watch out for the next leg of MMOW in your local malls!
