EDITORIAL: A tribute to teachers

Good as any other time of the year, but particularly after the end of the month-long celebration where we have acclaimed the time and efforts of teachers: Those who nightly prepare lesson plans for the K-12 students and the ones who review their college modules to suit the demands of the times.

We salute the Department of Education, which had coordinated with the National Teachers Day Coordinating Council and the National Teachers Month Coordinating Council which celebrated with appropriate activities National Teachers Month from Sept. 5 to Oct. 5, with the last day as the National Teachers Day and World Teachers Day.

The theme—Gurong Pilipino: Handa sa Makabagong Pagbabago—goes right down to the core that shows the challenges that must be addressed by today's teachers.

The World Teachers Day has been observed the world over since 1994 following the UNESCO Recommendation concerning Teachers—tireless professionals who have staked much of their talent and time to help mold the young minds of future leaders and useful units of society.

They are the standout beacons in the darkness and bearers of hope that give students courage and strength, a sense of direction and purpose that would help the population become relevant members of society.

But we should never forget the educational diamond, where any student, intending to make a good run through the bases of life, begins to be at bat in the home plate.

We see the parents—the mother, alternating with the father—as the first threading machines, the first to give the children, effectively the students in their initial years and even beyond their classroom schedules—who enlighten, excite, and provoke into eventually beneficial terrains of thoughts the children and the students may go into that they may learn enough to make them valuable citizens.

It is from these first teachers where students have learned the core values of humanism, who have sans doubt given enough for an admittedly unblemished contribution to the future of the students—leaders or members of their society.

Today we join a grateful generation in acknowledging the teachers: The parents, the siblings, any relative, the parish priest, and those who have humanity in their systems inside the classrooms.

Ipinatawag ni Mayor Lani Mercado Revilla ang may-ari ng Molino Doctors Hospital upang kastiguhin at pagpaliwanagin sa naganap na insidente na nagyari nuong nakaraang linggo, kung saan diumano dalawa ang lubhang nasugatan sa isang aksidente, sa harap mismo ng nasabing ospital, na di man lamang nabigyan ng pangunahing lunas.

Inamin naman ng pamunuan ng ospital ang kanilang pagkakamali at pagkukulang. Mariing ipinag-utos rin ni Mayor Lani na magsusumite ng official incident report sa lalong madaling panahon ang nasabing ospital.

Dahil sa pangyayari, nagdesisyon rin si Mayor Lani na tapusin ang kasunduan sa pagitan ng local government at Molino Doctors Hospital. Ito ay tumutukoy sa Memorandum of Agreement regarding Medical Assistance na dati'y kabahagi ang nasabing ospital.

Ayon kay Bacoor PNP Chief Col. Cabatingan, nagkaroon na ng settlement agreement sa pagitan ng naka-aksidente at ng mga nabangga. Napagkasunduan na ang lahat ng gastusin sa ospital pati katumbas ng kalahati ng sweldo ng nabangga sa bawat araw ay ibibigay ng nasabing naka aksidente.

NI Nelson Dimapilis

Senator Win Gatchalian has urged the Department of Finance (DOF) to carefully study how it plans to protect the jobs of thousands of Filipinos if Congress approves the proposed Corporate Income Tax Incentives Reform Act (CITIRA).

Gatchalian, vice chairman of the Senate Committee on Economic Affairs, expressed his apprehension over the passage of CITIRA, especially when the job security of 700,000 Filipinos are at stake as a result of removing the incentives being enjoyed by many Philippine-based companies and corporations.

To support his claim, the lawmaker cited a provision of Section 312 of CITIRA stating that "the following amount shall be appropriated to compensate workers that maybe displaced by rationalization of fiscal incentives to improve employability and so on."

"Even the bill recognizes job losses. It recognizes displacement," Gatchalian pointed out. "Mahirap ho sa amin suportahan ang isang batas kung alam naming marami ang mawawalan ng trabaho."

"So we are creating jobs on one hand but we are also displacing people on the other. And that is embedded in the bill. The bill itself gives us a signal that there will be job losses," he added.

During the recent Senate hearing on CITIRA, the Joint Foreign Chambers (JFC) of the Philippines estimated that around 703,000 jobs are at stake should the proposed fiscal incentive system under the proposed tax plan be approved.

American Chamber of Commerce senior adviser John Forbes, who represented the JFC during the hearing of Senate Committee on Ways and Means, defended the Philippines' existing fiscal incentives regime, which he said compensated for the high cost of investing here in the country.

Should Congress pass the CITIRA law, Forbes warned that 121,000 direct jobs and 582,000 in indirect employment would be cut. On the other hand, retaining the current tax perks would sustain a 5 to 10% annual increase in the labor sector or equivalent to 1 to 2 million direct and 4 to 8 million indirect jobs generated in the next 10 years.

For this reason, Gatchalian urged Finance Undersecretary Karl Kendrick Chua to thoroughly study the impact of CITIRA on the job security of many Filipinos, as well as to conduct a comparative analysis on the costs of producing goods and doing business in our country, among others.

"I want to demonstrate that to the Committee because we have to cover all of these things in order to come up with an educated decision to be able to support this bill, or to at least come up with some adjustments," the lawmaker said.

"We are very sensitive to job losses and we are very sensitive to job creation. I think everyone is striving to create jobs," he added.

Training hub to boost fight vs. terrorism in PH

TRAINING HUB VS. TERRORISM. Philippine National Police chief Police Gen. Oscar Albayalde (4th from right) join US officials led by Ambassador to the Philippines Sung Kim (5th from right) and a representative from the Department of Foreign Affairs in the ceremonial lowering of a time capsule during the groundbreaking ceremony of the first-ever, state-of-the-art Regional Counterterrorism Training Center (RCTTC) in the Philippines held at Camp General Mariano Castañeda, Silang, Cavite on Friday (Oct. 11). The RCTTC will train Filipino law enforcement personnel on counter-terrorism operations and strengthen the regional security relationship and cooperation between the Philippines and East Asia Pacific partners nations-- Indonesia, Thailand, and Malaysia. (PNA photo by Gladys S. Pino)

SILANG, Cavite -- The government's fight against terrorism in the Philippines will be strengthened after the recent groundbreaking of the first-ever counter-terrorism training center in Southeast Asia here.

The PHP350 million, state-of-the-art Regional Counter-Terrorism Training Center (RCTTC) that would rise at Camp General Mariano A. Castañeda will be jointly operated by the United States (US) and Philippine governments.

The RCTTC,

which forms part of the PHP520-million US investment, aims to train Filipino law enforcement personnel on counter-terrorism operations and further strengthen the regional security relationship and cooperation between the Philippines and East Asia Pacific partners nations-- Indonesia, Thailand, and Malaysia.

The project, built on decades of US' close counter-terrorism cooperation with the Philippine National Police, "is a mayor step in the deepening of our counter-terrorism partnership," said US Ambassador Sung Kim, who led on Friday the groundbreaking rite along with PNP chief, Gen. Oscar Albayalde.

"This reflects the enduring US commitment to support the Philippines' counter-terrorism efforts and to work together to address threats to peace and security in the whole region," Kim added.

bayalde said as terrorism continues to pose a serious threat to the Philippines and across Asia, the RCTTC will empower the Philippine law enforcement personnel in the pursuance of their mission.

"With the RCTTC in place, we hope to be able to keep in step with the latest training methods and technology in fighting terrorism," he said.

The PNP led the signing of a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with the US government, through the support of the US Department of State Anti-Terrorism Assistance (ATA) Program for the construction and operation of a multi-purpose RCTTC last Aug. 15 this year.

The RCTTC will provide a venue for the ATA counter-terrorism training for PNP units, particularly the Special Action Force (SAF), EOD/K-9 Group, Anti-Cybercrime Group (ACG), Anti-Kidnapping Group (AKG), Aviation Security Group (ASG), Intelligence Group (IG), and Police Security and Protection Group (PSPG).

Other Philippine law enforcement group that will also benefit from the project are the National Bureau of Investigation, Bureau of Immigration, Office for Transport Security, among others. (PNA)

PASSPORT ... FROM PAGE 8

Prior to the actual day of POW, a detailed infographic about it was posted on the Facebook Page of Mayor Jenny. Documents of applicants were pre-screened by selected City employees and only those pre-approved were encoded to the DFA Portal. Applicants were then notified through their gmail accounts of the payment reference numbers needed in settling the fee in authorized payment centers. Passporting fee is One Thousand Two Hundred Pesos (P1,200.00). After the payment, another electronic notification was sent to the applicants requesting them to print copies of the following which they had to bring on the actual day of passporting:

- Appointment paper (electronic copy of the Application Form)
- E-receipt (applicant's copy)
- E-receipt (DFA copy)

On the actual day of passporting, applicants came according to their assigned time slots. In service to the public, notarial services were provided for free. A photocopier was also provided at the venue and it was free of charge. Moreover, a coaster and a utility vehicle were provided by the City Government for the back-and-forth transportation of the whole DFA Team at DFA-Aseana, Pasay. All their meals including breakfast, AM-snack, lunch and PM-snack were provided and served in buffet. Furthermore, they were sent back with a packed dinner. The program concluded with the awarding of plaque of appreciation and tokens to DFA personnel.

The POW program started in the City of Dasmariñas in 2005. It has benefited a number of Dasmariñenos since then. For this reason, it has been included in the annual service offered by the City Government to its constituents. In 2005, the City was given five hundred (500) slots. However, due to the increasing demand, the DFA is now allotting the City five hundred (500) to one thousand five hundred (1500) slots. Last year, the mobile passporting was conducted twice—in March and October. It was held at the same venue and all the 1500 slots for each requested date were all used.

In this present time when opportunities are often just a step way, having a passport is definitely a must! The City Government wants nothing but to be instrumental in bringing a more accessible and reliable consular service to all Dasmariñenos that would keep them from fixers and scammers. After all, we all deserve to travel the world! As what Dalai Lama said, a Nobel Peace Prize awardee and spiritual leader, "Once a year, go some place you've never been before," so together with the City Government, let us push our will to travel!

MNLI and DTI hold Product Development Consultation

Mga Likha ni Inay (MLNI), the retail arm of CARD Mutually Reinforcing Institutions in collaboration with the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) conducted a product development consultation in Cauayan City, Isabela. The activity was organized to intensify the product development program of DTI which is mandated to improve the competitiveness of Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs). The Product Development consultation is one of the activities in CARD MRI's Kaunlaran Caravan, a community outreach program conducted regularly. Thirteen local micro-entrepreneurs from several municipalities in Isabela availed the service. DTI and Go Negosyo Mentors Mr. Cesar Pasco and Mr. Renel Betralo discussed current market trends in packaging and labeling, Food and Drug Administration (FDA) requirements, and current programs of the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) for MSMEs. The two-phase activity was completed with a product clinic and assessment or one-on-one consultations wherein participants had the opportunity to avail and ask technical questions from professional product development consultants. "This activity really means a lot to us, the one-on-one session with the consultants gave us additional knowledge on how we can do better with our business and crafts," said Romelyn Romero, CARD RBI client with handicraft business. "We hope that through this activity, it would bring positive outcome from our clients. Given the right opportunity, we believe that these entrepreneurs can do better with their products and services," said Marilyn M. Manila, President of MLNI. Manila also added that this consultation will be a one of the regular activities CARD MRI Kaunlaran Caravan.

Cesar Pasco, one of the DTI and Go Negosyo mentors, discussed the current market trends in packaging and labeling to one of the participants of the event.

CARD MRI grants scholarship to Senior High School, College students of CMDI

A total of 548 aspiring entrepreneurs of senior high school and college students of CARD MRI-Development Institute (CMDI) Bay campus received full scholarships from CARD MRI for this school year.

CMDI has increased the number of its scholars to achieve its goal of "One Family, One Graduate" a program that aims to provide scholarships and various CARD MRI education assistance to ensure that for every family, there will be one college graduate.

This program is part of CMDI's mission to contribute to the goal of CARD MRI to end poverty in the country by creating competent practitioners through quality education.

According to Dr. Jaime Aristotle B. Alip, CARD MRI Founder and Chairman Emeritus, "Education is the greatest equalizer and the best weapon to end poverty. For every child who has an opportunity to finish college education is also an opportunity to help his/her own family to improve their quality of living."

He also emphasized that education is not just a privilege but also a responsibility.

The scholarship awards ceremony was attended by CARD MRI Managing Director and CMDI President, Flordeliza L. Sarmiento.

"Education and discipline will lead to success. Knowledge and skills are useless if the attitude is below the standard," Sarmiento emphasized.

Scholars also thanked CMDI management for giving them the full support academically and financially for their education.

"I am really blessed despite my age of 52, CMDI gave me and to my son the opportunity to finish our studies," said Bernardo Ombina, Sr., BS Entrepreneurship student.

To date, CMDI already granted scholarship to more than 3,100 deserving students. Apart from scholarships, CARD MRI offers various education programs such as Balik Eskwela, Zero Dropout, and student assistance to further ensure that students will finish their basic to tertiary education.
