which was temporarily suspended due to the outbreak. Prioritizing the safety of its constituents, mass distribution which will gather a huge crowd was disallowed prompting the Office of the Governor to spearhead the house-to-house distribution of aid to beneficiaries.

Aside from the Botika on wheels which caters to the medical needs of the locals, the team from the Office of the Governor and the Provincial Social Welfare and Development Office went down to barangays to dispense financial and burial assistance which were already processed in the previous months and awaiting release.

On July 21- 23, a total of 116 beneficiaries were given assistance including those from the municipality of Mendez with 33 recipients, 40 from Tagaytay City and 43 citizens from General Emilio Aguinaldo.

Another batch composed of 408 recipients were granted assistance on July 28-31 with 114 beneficiaries from Ternate, 53 residents from Alfonso, 104 from Magallanes and 137 beneficiaries from Amadeo.

Owing to the huge impact of the pandemic to the health and livelihood of Caviteños, the provincial government's response actions focus not only in stopping the further spread of the virus through policies and guidelines, education and information, treatment, testing and contact tracing but also in providing the needed assistance like financial aids, food and non-food commodities, and ways to move forward like business continuity for the economic sector, tourism and education sector support, and many more.

EDITORIAL: Falling economies

"The government should not ignore the call of workers to reclaim their jobs." The global coronavirus pandemic has sparked an economic "crisis like no other," said the International Monetary Fund last month. That assessment may be cautiously optimistic when ranged against the actual economic performance of major industrialized nations in the second quarter.

Major economies are about to report their gross domestic product results in the April-June period, and many analysts are already conditioning themselves to disastrous performances. The Philippines, too, is expecting the worst after virtually shutting down the economy from March to May through a series of lockdown measures that disrupted the supply chain and rendered many workers jobless.

The United States, the world's biggest economy, will release second-quarter data anytime soon confirming that the coronavirus pandemic resulted in a historic plunge of 35 percent in the GDP and in a high number of unemployment filings.

Closer to home, Singapore sank into recession in the second quarter after growth dropped 41.2 percent quarter-on-quarter. Its economy slumped 12.6 percent year-on-year, an unprecedented development. The second-quarter results put the city state in recession for the first time in 10 years.

The IMF has predicted the world GDP will decline 4.9 percent this year and wipe out $12 trillion over two years. Global business closures meant hundreds of millions of jobs were lost.

The slightest global economic contraction is disastrous, especially for low-income countries and households. The IMF has warned that a lower GDP output lessens job opportunities and endangers the progress made on reducing extreme poverty.

Here in the Philippines, economic managers are hoping the nation already experienced the worst of the COVID-19 pandemic in the second quarter.

But local private economists believe the local GDP contraction could be deeper in the second quarter, considering that the lockdown imposed by the government to contain the spread of the disease almost covered the entire April-to-June period.

Reopening the economy further, thus, is a must if the administration wants to preserve the recent gains it achieved. The government should not ignore the call of workers to reclaim their jobs.

The provincial government of Cavite is putting up one of the country's biggest laboratories for COVID-19 testing, which once fully operational would be able to finish 10,000 tests a day for the coronavirus.

Governor Jonvic Remulla announced this Thursday in a Facebook post, saying the first laboratory will be built at the De La Salle University-Dasmariñas Hospital, which can perform 3,000 tests a day.

"We are building two more laboratories to service the province," Remulla said.

In preparation for the coronavirus vaccine once it is available, he said Cavite shall implement a provincial ID system for effective administration purposes.

"Once a vaccine is made available, the government should be ready to respond to the following public concerns: 1. How do we administer 220,000,000 doses (2 shots per person x 110 million Filipinos?)," the governor said.

"2. How do we do it without creating the least amount of panic and hysteria? Who gets it FIRST and how do people get it quickly enough? 3. How do we apply the lessons learned from the challenges we encountered during the SAP distribution and avoid the same mistakes when it comes to the avilment and administration of the vaccine?" Remulla said.

"We should expect more from the Government," he said, quoting Sorsogon Gov. Chiz Escudero.

"If our hands are full in the containment strategy, then our best minds should have the foresight and prepare for the arrival of the vaccine. The good news is we are now crafting a proactive and viable plan for Cavite," Remulla said.

The governor also revealed other plans for Cavite.

He noted that the provincial government will be launching an educational plan in 10 days, in preparation for the opening of classes on August 24.

"CLUE: #Free-WiFiForCavite," Remulla wrote, hinting of free Internet services for schools in the province. (MS)

BOTIKA ON WHEELS CONTINUES IN KAWIT: Amidst the COVID-19 pandemic, the provincial government of Cavite continue to provide basic health services to the elderlies and children of the province through the Botika On Wheels program by delivering free maintenance medicines and vitamins to target beneficiaries. On July 13 – 17, 2020, the Botika on Wheels team roamed the municipality of Kawit where they distributed maintenance medicines and vitamins to almost 2,000 senior citizens. Likewise, more than 1,000 children also received vitamins to help strengthen their immune system. First District Representative Francis Gerardo A. Abaya supported the program and joined the team together with Vice Mayor Arman Bernal, some Sangguniang Bayan members and barangay officials in distributing the medicines to 23 barangays. The program prioritized elderlies and children as they are more vulnerable to COVID -19. (Janice D. Patulot)

World Bank cites Duterte admin's prudent fiscal program as crucial to PHL efforts to beat COVID-19 pandemic

The Duterte administration's prudent fiscal management strategy has positioned the Philippines as among the countries "in good shape" to meet the challenges spawned by the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic and bounce back from this global health crisis, according to the World Bank's newly named director for the country.

With the Philippines' debt of equivalent to just 40 percent the size of its economy at the time the coronavirus pandemic struck, its government has enough fiscal space to address the emergency triggered by the COVID-19 global crisis, said Mr. Ndiame Diop, the newly designated country director of the World Bank for Brunei, Malaysia, the Philippines and Thailand.

"We are looking at the Philippines and comparing to other countries in the region and looking at the initial condition, what is the economic condition when the pandemic hit... I think the prudent fiscal management of the past few years has really positioned the country to be among the countries that are really at the forefront in terms of capacity to respond on the fiscal side," Mr. Diop said in a recent virtual meeting with Finance Secretary Carlos Dominguez III and members of the Duterte administration's "Build, Build, Build" infrastructure team.

The Philippines' debt-to-GDP (gross domestic product) ratio before COVID-19 plunged the world into a global economic downturn was at only 39.6 percent in 2019.

Secretary Dominguez has underscored the conservative fiscal policies of President Duterte as a critical factor in maintaining the Philippines' high credit worthiness, which has enabled it to secure borrowings from development partners for the government's COVID-19 response efforts at the least cost.

Mr. Diop said other countries facing national debts in relation to their respective GDPs of 60 to 70 percent will face a "tough" period ahead. "So I think the good shape in which the Philippines is under this crisis positions it very, very well going forward," he added during the meeting held via the Zoom teleconferencing tool.

Secretary Dominguez, for his part, thanked Mr. Diop and the World Bank for providing the government policy advice on how to maintain the country's strong fiscal position, which has resulted to, among others, the enactment of the Tax Reform for Acceleration and Inclusion (TRAIN) Law.

TRAIN, which raised state revenues in 2019 to more than 50 percent than it was before the administration of President Duterte, helped provide the government the fiscal space required to meet the massive state funds needed to fight COVID-19 and provide relief to the poor and other virus-hit sectors, Secretary Dominguez said.

Secretary Dominguez assured the World Bank that even amid the pandemic, the Duterte administration is fully committed to carry out its "Build, Build, Build" infrastructure program, which was another recommendation of the multilateral institution in sustaining the Philippines' inclusive growth strategy.

"We look at the 'Build, Build, Build' program as our main means of (stimulating) the economy, putting money in the pockets of the people, while at the same time constructing the needed infrastructure. We are going to be very reliant on the 'Build, Build, Build' program to bring us out of this

Filipino youth's smoking habits should be curbed to reduce risk of COVID-19 infection

Senator Win Gatchalian sees the need to heighten the campaign on the adverse effects of continued use of cigarette and tobacco products, especially among the youth, to lessen the risk of those vulnerable to COVID-19 infection.

In a scientific brief, the World Health Organization (WHO) said that available evidence suggests an association between smoking and increased severity of disease and death in hospitalized CoViD-19 patients. The WHO also urged tobacco users to stop the use of these harmful products given the well-established harms they cause, including cancer.

In a webinar with student leaders, Gatchalian emphasized three important steps for a smoke-free Philippines: fight the heavy lobby from the tobacco industry, transition tobacco farmers to planting sustainable high-quality crops, and dissuade the youth from smoking.

He cited various global and national tobacco surveys in Southeast Asia, including the Global Youth Tobacco Survey (GYTS), which revealed that the Philippines is second-highest in terms of cigarette smoking prevalence among young males aged 13-15. The same set of surveys revealed that cigarette smoking prevalence among young females in the same age group is highest in the Philippines compared to other Southeast Asian countries.

In the Philippines, cigarette prevalence is 17.6 percent for boys aged 13-15 and seven percent for girls of the same age, the GYTS revealed.

The same survey also showed that 50.6 percent of students noticed tobacco advertisements or promotions at points of sale, while 67.1 percent were taught in school about the dangers of tobacco exposure to tobacco advertisements. Since learning from home will be the new norm when classes reopen, Gatchalian said that the learning environment for the youth should be smoke-free.

"I'm in support of the advocacy to make our campuses, offices, restaurants, and enclosed public places smoke-free. I really believe that our country would be more progressive and economically developed if we channel our resources to more productive endeavors instead of treating smoking-related diseases, which can be prevented," said Gatchalian.

Last year, Gatchalian proposed a tobacco tax hike of P70 per pack to curb Filipinos' smoking habits and fund the government's Universal Health Care program. Gatchalian is also seeking higher taxes and heavier regulations on vapes, including a complete ban of vaping among teenagers.

RECOVERY AND REHABILITATION PROGRAM FOR AFRICAN SWINE FEVER AFFECTED FARMERS: The Department of Agriculture Region IV-A, in coordination with the Provincial Veterinary Office headed by Dr. May Magno distributed chicks and veterinary medicines as part of the Recovery and Rehabilitation Program for African Swine Fever Affected Farmers on July 20, 2020 at the DA Cavite Research and Experiment Station (DA-CARES) in Naic, Cavite. Ms. Vilma Dimaculangan, DA IV-A Regional Livestock Program Coordinator, led the turnover of commodities intended for beneficiary farmers from the cities of Dasmariñas, General Trias, Tagaytay and Trece Martires, as well as farmers from the municipalities of Indang, General Mariano Alvarez, Carmona, Ternate, Magallanes, Maragondon, and Noveleta. They received chicks, feeds, housing, vitamins and medicines as DA's support to regain the losses of livestock raisers affected by ASF. Recovery and rehabilitation plans were laid out to enable farmers to rise up through a different form of livelihood that will serve as their source of income. A total of two hundred thirty-seven farmer beneficiaries were recorded during the event including the farmers from the municipalities of Silang, General Emilio Aguinaldo, Amadeo, Naic, Tanza, Alfonso and Mendez who will receive the same commodities on July 23. SM CITY BACOR, CAVITE – Integrity never goes out of style. Indeed, this quote from Jim George is true as stories of integrity continue to unfold at SM City Bacoor. Recently, we've hearing the story of a breadwinner and single mother-lady guard who values her honor and the interest of others more than the cash she recovered. Now, we're set to hear yet another story of a man who value his principle more than any amount he could have.

While on his duty, SG Amiludin Acoy of Defense Specialist Security Agency Inc., recovered a plastic envelope containing cash at the ATM Machine beside SM City Bacoor's East Parking Area. Despite having the item on his hands, he still surrendered what he recovered to the CRS Office for verification with the hope to help the owner who lost them. "Ibinalik ko ang napulot kong pera hindi dahil may nakakita, kundi dahil hindi naman ito sa akin," said SG Acoy, 'masarap sa pakiramdam ang makatulong sa kapwa.'

Truly, this deed is reflective of SM's Corporate value of honesty and integrity and bespeaks well of the attribute of a good member of SM Security force, worthy of praise and emulation. SG AMILUDIN ACOY brought honor and pride not only to himself, his family and security agency but also to SM group of companies in general. Even during these times, let us hope to have more people like him, and also do what he has exemplified.

CARD Bank, continues to serve in the new normal

The new normal calls for a different approach on the delivery of services for various organizations. CARD Bank, the largest microfinance-oriented rural bank in the Philippines, held its mid-year business review and planning on July 8-10, 2020 with the theme "Moving forward to the new normal fueled by the same mission of poverty eradication" to re-imagine and re-configure its services for its more than 3.3 Million clients nationwide.

President and CEO Marivic M. Austria said. She further explained that aside from its mobile banking application called konek2CARD, CARD Bank has partnered with Paymaya, Panalo Express, and ECPay to provide clients with alternative payment channels for payments of loans, savings and insurance premiums.

A beacon of hope

Throughout the years, microfinance institutions have provided socio-economically challenged families with access to financial services and community development programs. This is further highlighted as MFIs like CARD Bank continues to become beacons of hope for the poor during the pandemic. In accordance to the Bayanihan We Head As One Act, MFIs like CARD Bank implemented a moratorium so that clients can allot their budget for necessities during the community quarantines. To support microfinance clients in bouncing back after the drastic economic effect of COVID-19, CARD Bank disbursed loans to 221,000 clients amounting to PHP1.5 Billion from May until July 3, 2020.

"We are optimistic that we will continue to bring positive impact to Filipino families despite the new challenges we are facing due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Through our digital efforts, we will continue to deliver our services to our clients," CARD Bank insurance to its clients. While the group also declared moratorium in its weekly insurance premium payment, its clients remained insured during lockdowns. Fast disbursement of insurance claims of CARD clients continues even there were lockdowns. The group was paying an average of 5 to 6 million pesos daily for insurance claims in the midst of quarantines.

Currently, 99% of all CARD Bank branches, unit offices, and branch-lite units are open and continuing its services under the requirements and protocols required by the new normal. An average of 60% of its workforce reports physically to these offices, while the remaining 40% are being retooled in preparation for a "branchless banking". Austria explains that by the end of the year, CARD MRI is expecting that 800,000 of its total clients will be konek2CARD users. As the number of these digital clients increases, CARD MRI will also transform its workforce into becoming more equipped in digital banking.

"We understand that the shift to digitization may be challenging, but we also consider this to be transformational for our clients. Our workforce is ready in assisting and supporting our clients in making this shift," Austria stated.

Embracing the new normal

CARD Bank re-imagined its plans and came up with new strategies to better serve the community amidst the COVID-19 pandemic. The rural bank already embraced the new normal and is ready to move forward and achieve its mission of zero poverty incidence in the country.

"We admit that there are setbacks and barriers as we move forward our digitization journey, like meeting our clients face-to-face. But the trademark of CARD MRI to give relevant and tailored-fit services will always remain as we re-configure our plans and strategies to adapt to the new normal," said Austria.

"We see this crisis not as a problem, but an opportunity to reach more Filipinos in the country. We will continue to keep our eyes fixed on our main goal – a poverty-free Philippines. We embrace the changes brought by our current challenges on our health and economy while continuing to transform lives as we have always done in the past three decades," shared CARD Bank Chairman Dr. Jaime Aristotle B. Alip. (CARBANK PR) recession," Secretary Dominguez said of President Duterte's centerpiece project.

Mr. Diop said the World Bank is looking forward to "getting quick results" in its infrastructure engagement with the Philippines.

Secretary Dominguez assured Mr. Diop that the Philippines will strive to maintain its status as among the Top 10 countries in the world in terms of planning and executing their respective infrastructure programs, based on the results of a recent independent global survey.

Budget Secretary Wendel Avisado, who was also present at the Zoom meeting, pointed out the results of the 2019 Open Budget Survey that showed the Philippines as No. 1 among Southeast Asian economies and ranking 10th worldwide in terms of making their national budgets transparent and open to the public.

Both Secretaries Dominguez and Avisado assured the World Bank of the transparent, judicious and efficient use of the funds extended by the institution to the Philippines to support the government's COVID-19 response and other priority programs such as "Build, Build, Build."

Also present at the Zoom meeting with Mr. Diop were Secretaries Mark Villar of the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH), Arthur Tugade of the Department of Transportation (DOTr), Acting Secretary

Karl Kendrick Chua of the National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA); Finance Undersecretaries Mark Dennis Joven and Grace Karen Singson; and Finance Assistant Secretary Maria Edita Tan.

From the World Bank, among those who attended the Zoom meeting were Mr. Achim Fock, the Operations Manager for Brunei, Malaysia, Philippines and Thailand; Mr. Gabriel Demombynes, Program Leader for Human Development; Mr. Souleymane Coulibaly, Program Leader for Equitable Growth, Finance and Institutions and Lead Economist; Ms. Madhu Raghunath, Sector Leader for Sustainable Development; and Ms. Rong Qian, Senior Economist, Macroeconomics, Trade and Investment. DOF...

Finance Secretary Carlos Dominguez III said Thursday the government has adequate funds to purchase vaccines for the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) for the 20 million poorest Filipinos once these become available and approved for distribution, most probably by December.

Dominguez said the exact amount needed will depend on what ever vaccine or vaccines the Department of Health (DOH) will determine to be the most suitable for inoculation.

An estimated P20 billion (about US$400 million) may be needed to inoculate a minimum of 20 million persons, Dominguez said.

"We have a plan and we can execute it as soon as the DOH chooses which vaccine or vaccines they want. Maybe, you (DOH) will choose several," Dominguez informed President Duterte during Thursday night's meeting of the Inter-Agency Task Force for the Management of Emerging Infectious Diseases (IATF), portions of which were broadcast this morning.

Dominguez said the government is looking at the United States, the United Kingdom and China as sources for COVID-19 vaccine doses.

As of this week, six COVID-19 vaccine candidates have entered Phase 3 trials, which involve testing doses on volunteers. These vaccine candidates are from the United Kingdom, United States, Australia and China.

Dominguez said that once the vaccine is available, the economy can be fully opened and Filipinos can start to return to their normal, pre-COVID-19, way of life.

Everyone is requested to observe the minimum health protocols inside establishments and in public areas including the total liquor ban which is in effect in the municipality.

On the other hand, violators of the quarantine protocols will be penalized with commensurate fines and/or community service depending on the decision by the court of law.

Authorized Persons Outside of Residences (APOR) are always required to bring their company ID and QR code for employees/workers. Those who are non-workers need to bring always their Home Quarantine Passes and valid IDs showing proof of age and allowed only for essential errands like purchase of food, medicines or for medical check-ups. Similarly, for self-employed workers valid ID of self employment from the Public Employment Services Office (PESO) is the required documentation.

As originally mandated, persons belonging to the vulnerable sectors like those aged below 21 years, and those above 59 years old (senior citizens), those with existing health conditions, co-morbidities, pregnant women and lactating mothers are not allowed to leave their residences.

Based on the latest data from the Municipal Health Office, the total confirmed cases as of 7pm of July 30, 2020 rose to 189 due to additional 14 new cases recorded yesterday thus, the issuance of this order for the town's mitigation effort against the further spread of the coronavirus.

Meanwhile, the town recorded the highest number of recoveries with 13 recoveries bringing the total number of recoveries to 60. (PIA)

CONCEPCION: MAYORS, BUSINESS GROUPS PUSH FOR LOCALIZED LOCKDOWN

Last July 28, Presidential Adviser for Entrepreneurship and Go Negosyo founder Joey Concepcion calls for a localized lockdown during a private Zoom meeting together with selected mayors, government anti-COVID czars, different business chambers and organizations, and business conglomerates.

Among over a hundred attendees were Presidential Spokesperson Harry Roque, Sec. Carlos Dominguez III, Sec. Vince Dizon, Deputy Chief Implementer of National Policy Against COVID-19, Sec. Carlito Galvez, Jr. Chief Implementer of National Policy Against COVID-19, Sec. Eduardo Año, Vice-Chair of the National Task Force (NTF), Sec. Delfin Lorenzana, Chair of the National Task Force (NTF), Sec. Silvestre Bello III, Mayors Menchie Abalos (Mandaluyong), Imelda Calixto-Rubiano (Pasay), Vico Sotto (Pasig), Joy Belmonte (Quezon City), Abby Binay (Makati), Lino Cayetano (Taguig), and Benjamin Magalong (Baguio). Jaime Augusto Zobel de Ayala, Chairman, and CEO of Ayala Corp., Manny Pangilinan,

Chairman of MVP Group of Companies, and Ricky Razon, Chairman of the Board and President of ICTSI were also present.

"We cannot afford to go back to ECQ on Metro Manila again," said Secretary Galvez. "We will try to implement a more targeted and localized lockdown and segmented and granular approach on the hotspots of infection."

Instead of locking down entire cities or regions which have seen an increasing number of confirmed cases, Concepcion called for a more surgical and localized approach to lockdown that focuses on barangays or local clusters with high infection rates while allowing the rest of the area to operate normally. "Switching to more granular lockdown measures and giving more power to LGUs to enforce the lockdowns is something I presented to the President in a meeting. Economic activity may continue and businesses may resume operations especially MSMEs who have been extremely challenged by the pandemic. Going back to ECQ will destroy businesses and people who are trying to restart. The private sector through the efforts of T3, Project ARK, has supported the government in increasing the testing capacity of the country."

Secretary Lorenzana echoed Cong. Garin's statement of finding a way to co-exist with the virus while a vaccine has yet to be discovered. "We have to learn how to coexist with the virus. Co-existing with the virus should be the basis of our strategy moving forward. [We should] agree on the action plan and implement it properly," he said.

Moreover, Secretary Año explained that one of the more pressing issues is the fear people have when going to isolation centers. He appeals to the private sector to consider setting up dedicated quarantine facilities for their employees.

"When relaxing, there's a psychological effect that begins to take place when moving towards normality. This is going to be around for a while. Testing is something we fully support. Aside from the targeted lockdowns based on data analysis which I support, I want to emphasize the teaching [and education] component [and] making use of aggressive data-driven analysis," said Ayala.

Razon, on the other hand, emphasized that execution is an extremely critical component of the government's COVID response, suggesting that the best laid-out plans should be properly executed.

On his part, Pangilinan expressed his belief that testing should be more targeted given the country's limited healthcare resources. He said that his company will continue to support the government's efforts in mitigating the spread of COVID-19.

Baguio Mayor Benjamin Magalong, who was appointed as Contact Tracing czar, emphasized that it is just as important to set aside resources to trace close contacts of confirmed cases in order to contain virus transmission.

"Health and the economy are two inseparable issues because without the economy, you cannot have a well-organized public health response," ARK PCR Private Implementor Janette Garin said. "We need to balance public health and the economy through the pooled testing mechanism."

Garin outlined the initial costing plan of pooled testing, which is a result of a study with the Philippine Society of Pathologists, Inc. (PSP) and Philippine Children's Medical Center (PCMC) that seeks to confirm the validity of putting swab samples of multiple individuals into a single PCR test. She explained that pools of 5s will cost P450 per head; pools of 10s at P350 per head and pools of 20s at P250 per head inclusive of P150 swabbing fee with VTM.

"I really believe that mass testing is vital for everyone, especially for mayors who are leading the battle to flatten the curve. As mayors, we have so many concerns. That's why we need partners like you. I am looking forward to and I am willing to support the pooled testing facility," Mayor Rubiano said.

"We are going to conduct 10,000 tests using pooled testing. Based on our initial testing, 5% actually tested positive. We look forward to another phase of this collaboration. We are an essential business district, we have to keep the economy alive in the city," shared Mayor Binay.

"As of today, we have 6077 active cases. That seems a lot but we also have a high recovery rate. Our recovery rate exceeded infection rates. Contact tracing is something we're doing and ramping up. [We are] working with Mayor Magalong to adopt the software and the app they have," Mayor Belmonte said.

"Since day one, we have been working closely together with LGUs and the national government," Mayor Cayetano said. "We have an open line, coordinating how we move. There is a sincere unprecedented level of cooperation." (GO NEGOSYO PR)

Dominguez cites PNP 'heroic' efforts to save Filipino lives from pandemic

Finance Secretary Carlos Dominguez III has commended the Philippine National Police (PNP) for helping save millions of Filipino lives from the highly infectious and lethal coronavirus with its orderly enforcement of mobility restrictions and minimum health standards in this season of the pandemic.

Amid the global health emergency spawned by the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), Dominguez said the men and women of the PNP have responded swiftly and heroically to their mission of keeping people safe from the contagion, and rose above the call of duty by working to "the limits of endurance" and volunteering to donate a portion of their salaries to the government's COVID-19 response.

"Because of the highly infectious nature of the virus we are fighting, we all had to swing into action at a moment's notice. We called on you urgently, and you responded bravely," Dominguez told members of the national police organization led by PNP chief General Archie Gamboa.

Dominguez delivered his videotaped message to the PNP as guest of honor during the closing ceremony for the 25th Police Community Relations Month held this morning (July 30) at the PNP Multi-Purpose Center, Camp Crame, Quezon City.

The Finance Chief said that when the pandemic broke out, the country's police forces were tasked to man checkpoints, enforce curfews, and restrict movements of people that posed hazards to public health.

On top of these duties, he said the PNP also "carried out community relations of the highest order" as the government had to reassure people, prevent panic and chaos from breaking out, and ensure that emergency assistance was being delivered promptly to those who needed them.

"Our police officers responded heroically to this important mission, rising above the call of duty to meet a most formidable challenge," Dominguez said.

Dominguez commended, in particular, Gamboa and the members of the PNP Command Group, which include Police Lieutenant Generals Camilo Cascolan, Guillermo Eleazar, and Cesar Binag; Police Colonels Harold Tuzon and Benjamin Silo; and Police Brigadier General Felipe Natividad.

"Under your able leadership, the PNP was able to efficiently execute all the additional roles it had to perform to keep our people safe, and was able to effectively rise above the challenges spawned by this national emergency," Dominguez said.

In carrying out their duties, Dominguez noted that over a thousand police officers were themselves infected with COVID-19 and several lost their lives to the deadly contagion.

Even while working round the clock and for long periods, the entire rank-and-file of the PNP demonstrated the meaning of "malasakit" or compassion by volunteering to donate a portion of their salaries, which collectively amounted to P228.45 million, to help fund the government's COVID-19 response, Dominguez said.

"This was a most gallant gesture," Dominguez said.

Aside from this donation, Dominguez also lauded the PNP for organizing its "Kapwa Ko, Sagot Ko" program, in which police units took it upon themselves to provide food packs and other necessities to indigent families.

Moreover, the PNP also organized free transport for medical frontline workers and manned several quarantine facilities hurriedly set up to contain the spread of infections, Dominguez said.

"There are thousands of individual acts of heroism and patriotism by the men and women of the PNP. When all this is over, we will find the time to retell all these stories. They attest to the profound commitment of the police force to serve and protect our people," he added. (DOF PR)
