CAVITE GOVERNOR JONVIC REMULLA DISTRIBUTES INCENTIVES TO BHW AND BNS

In a gesture of appreciation and support, Governor Jonvic Remulla personally handed over ceremonial cheques to Barangay Health Workers (BHW) and Barangay Nutrition Scholars (BNS) during a special event held at the Cavite State University (CvSU) Silang Campus on July 19, 2024. The event highlighted the provincial government's recognition of these unsung heroes' contribution to the health and well-being of communities.

A total of ₱9,378,900 was allocated for the incentives of 921 BNS, while ₱24,480,000 was distributed among 2,400 BHWs for the first semester of 2024. These incentives recognize the vital role that these health and nutrition workers play in promoting public health and ensuring the delivery of essential services at the grassroots level.

Governor Remulla, in his speech, expressed his gratitude for the unwavering dedication and hard work of the BHWs and BNS. He acknowledged their critical role in the province's health system, especially during challenging times such as the recent pandemic.

The event was also attended by Sen. Tito Sotto, Sen. Francis Tolentino, Agimat Partylist Representative Bryan Revilla, some local officials, community leaders, and the beneficiaries themselves, who were visibly moved by the recognition and support from the provincial government. The incentive distribution not only provides financial assistance but also serves as a morale booster for the health workers, reinforcing their commitment to serving their communities. - JDP

EDITORIAL:

New era in cooperation

WE READ with interest the joint statement issued by the United States and Japan on Sunday following high level discussions aimed at enhancing their already close defense cooperation.

This gains particular relevance, given the tottering situation in the region, not excluding what they described as China's "unlawful maritime claims, militarization of reclaimed features and provocative activities in the South China Sea."

We are persuaded by the statement - dubbed "2+2" talks between US Secretary of State Antony Blinken, Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin and their Japanese counterparts - which said China's "foreign policy seeks to reshape the international order for its own benefit at the expense of others."

The statement, issued after Blinken's and Austin's talks with Japanese Foreign Minister Yoko Kamikawa and Defense Minister Minoru Kihara, also confirmed plans to establish in Japan a new Joint Force Headquarters, headed by a three-star US commander, for the 54,000 military personnel stationed there.

This will serve as a counterpart to Japan's planned Joint Operations Command for all its armed forces, making the two militaries more nimble in the case of a crisis over Taiwan or the Korean peninsula, given the Hawaii-based Indo-Pacific Command is around 6,500 kilometers away and 19 hours behind.

On Monday, Blinken and Kamikawa were to meet S. Jaishankar and Penny Wong, their Indian and Australian counterparts in the Quad, an alliance seen as a bulwark against China.

It is interesting the Tokyo statement called the US-Japan alliance "the cornerstone of peace, security, and prosperity in the Indo-Pacific region and beyond."

This month Japan and the Philippines - Blinken and Austin's next stop for a "2+2" - signed a defense pact that will allow the deployment of troops on each other's territory.

This followed the first trilateral summit in April between the leaders of Japan, the Philippines and the United States in Washington.

As with Manila, Japan and South Korea have also moved to bury the hatchet over World War II, with US President Joe Biden hosting both countries' leaders at Camp David last August.

The Tokyo "2 + 2" talks coincided with reports China permitted the Philippines resupply mission - yet another blatant lie by China - in Manila's outpost in Ayungin (Second Thomas) Shoal within Manila's 200-mile exclusive economic zone.

The National Task Force for the West Philippine Sea refuted China's claims it inspected the supplies the Philippine military was carrying to ensure only humanitarian necessities were ferried to the grounded BRP Sierra Madre and there was no boarding nor inspection.

To clarify, the Philippines did not and will never seek permission from the PRC to conduct resupply missions to Ayungin Shoal," the task force said.

The Task Force statement is plausible.

EK SUPPORTS BRIGADAESKWELA2024

As part of EnchantedKingdom's advocacy to promote a fun, unique and learning environment for students, EK is now on its 10th year in supporting the Department of Education (DepEd)'s BRIGADA ESKWELA 2024. Its official mascot Eldar The Wizard, along with his friends, had a very magical day sharing their enchanting performances for all the guests who also enjoyed tasty treats, EKciting games, and special gifts prepared by EK's Cast Members (employees). The event was gracefully led by Enchanted Kingdom Boss Mr. Mario O. Mamon, chairman and president ; Sta. Rosa City Mayor Arlene V. Arcillas who was represented by no other than Vice Mayor Arnold V. Arcillas together with other School officials and barangay officials of Barangay Southville 4, Sta. Rosa City, Laguna.

"Subalit ang Buwan ng Wikang Pambansa ay hindi lamang isang paalala; ito ay isa ring paanyaya na patuloy nating mahalina ang pagyamanin ang ating mga wika (However, National Language Month is not just a reminder; it is also an invitation for us to continue to love and enrich our languages)."

The President said Filipino literature is full of works that deepen our love for the country and encourage the new generation to also enjoy their own.

He urged Filipinos to take these literary pieces to heart and mind to foster greater collaboration for a progressive, free, and unified Philippines.

The country commemorates Buwan ng Wikang Pambasa every August, under Proclamation 1041 issued by former president Fidel V. Ramos in 1997.

SM PRIME WIDENS THE LANDSCAPE IN RENEWABLE ENERGY

As part of its net-zero commitment by 2040, one of Asia's leading real estate and property developers, SM Prime Holdings, Inc. (SM Prime), partnered with global integrated energy company TotalEnergies for the installation of a 2 Megawatt-peak (MWp) Solar Photovoltaic (PV) System Rooftop project in Pasay City.

The partnership venture aligns with SM Prime's efforts in expanding its renewable energy portfolio and affirms TotalEnergies' commitment to advancing renewable energy solutions in various urban settings.

Designed with a power yield of 3,000 Megawatt-hour (MWh) of electricity annually, the solar partnership project has over 3,672 PV panels installed and is expected to provide huge cost savings for SM Prime. Located at the MOA Square in the Mall of Asia Complex, for SM Prime," said Elodie Renaud, Managing Director of TotalEnergies Renewables Distributed Generation Asia.

For the past few years, SM Prime continues to grow its partnerships with key clean energy players, leveraging its relationships and earned experiences to drive its environmental stewardship campaign. Capitalizing on these partnerships has provided for SM Prime huge economic, environmental, and social dividends.

In 2022, SM Prime secured a long-term deal with AboitizPower for its clean energy supply. Under the agreement, AboitizPower will provide reliable and responsibly-sourced energy from Tiwi-MakBan Geothermal Power Plants, and PV Sinag's Power Plants, operated and managed by AboitizPower subsidiary, Aboitiz Renewables, Inc. (ARI).

The following year, SM Prime signed a memorandum of agreement with Citicore Renewable Energy Company (CREC), wherein SM Prime will source 90 megawatts (MWac) from CREC's upcoming Lumbangan Solar Power Plant in Tuy, Batangas.

Apart from contributing to the DOE's 35% renewable energy goal by 2030, all these partnerships are aligned with the energy department and Energy Regulatory Commission's (ERC) policy of expanding the adoption of Retail Competition and Open Access (RCOA) in the energy industry.

To date, SM Prime currently sources at least 50% of its electricity utilization from clean, renewable energy.

SM Prime supports the Philippine government's aim to increase the country's renewable energy supply component to 50% by the year 2040. It remains committed to its role as a catalyst for economic growth, delivering innovative and sustainable lifestyle cities, thereby enriching the quality of life of millions of people. SM Prime is pursuing the next horizon on integrated property development and onward to building sustainable cities of the future. PR

SM City Dasmariñas and SM Marketmall employees, along with agency personnel, participate in Brigada Eskwela 2024 at Paaralang Sentral ng Dasmariñas II under the theme "Bayanihan para sa matatag na paaralan." They contribute by painting, cleaning, and repairing classrooms, as well as donating books to support the children.

SSS reiterates: 'Social security is a basic human right'

Engr. Igharas cited the importance of UPLB job orders, contract of service workers and students to be enrolled in SSS ensuring that these individuals receive social security benefits, which can provide financial protection and support in times of need during sickness, maternity, disability, retirement, and death. Cayetano ..

The effects of Typhoon Carina could have been mitigated if the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) had completed its long overdue flood control projects, according to Senator Alan Peter Cayetano.

This came after Metro Manila and 5 neighboring provinces were placed under a state of calamity after being submerged by heavy flooding due to the typhoon, affecting 882,861 individuals or 183,464 families from 686 barangays nationwide as of July 24, 2024.

"It's a direct result of years of inaction on crucial flood control projects. This delay isn't just a failure, it's a disservice to our communities that are now left unprotected and vulnerable," Cayetano said on July 26, 2024.

During last year's Senate hearing on the 2024 national budget, Cayetano criticized the DPWH for years of delays in completing crucial flood control projects. He questioned the allocation of resources to these unfinished projects and suggested shifting efforts towards new infrastructure.

"Natu k l a s a n ing better, we're maintaining and rehabilitating. You're not putting money into building more networks, you're putting money into maintaining it," he said.

"Is there something wrong with the kind of public works we do? Kasi kung parang one is to one na y'ung bago sa pine-preserve mo, ibig sabihin, either hindi maganda y'ung pagkagawa or napakaluma na," he added.

Cayetano, as chair of Senate on Science and Technology, also urged the Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology (PHIVOLCS) in its modernization program to strengthen its hazard mapping to assist the DPWH in selecting better locations for flood-related infrastructure.

"Out of the P1 trillion sa DPWH budget ay P250 billion ay flood control. But if you spend P30-40 billion budget on hazard mapping that informs where not to build and which river to protect, you may not need P250 billion in flood control in the future," he said.

"We seem to be neglecting science. Reaction lang kasi after reaction ang paggawa at tinatabunan lang ang maling gawa sa isa," he added.

To achieve government plans to address massive flooding in the country and to cut expenses, Cayetano called for stronger support and proper funding for relevant government agencies, such as the Department of Science and Technology (DOST).

"Investing in their capabilities is investing in our nation's resilience against future disasters," he said.

This volunteer work highlights the importance of collaborative efforts in strengthening educational infrastructure and fostering community bonds. The participation of SM City San Pablo employees in Brigada Eskwela 2024 serves as a testament to their ongoing commitment to social responsibility and community development.

aware of the significance of social security as a fundamental human right, SSS has registered nearly 2,000 job order (JO) employees, Contract of Service (COS) workers, as well as some students of UPLB.

Vice President Edwin Igharas of the SSS South Luzon I Division highlighted the importance of government employees becoming members of the SSS as it provides them with access to social security benefits, which can shoulder financial woes in times of need such as sickness, maternity, disability, retirement, and death.

"The number one importance of why we did this is for the JOs to have social security benefits and begin their contribution. Although the others are already aware of being SSS members, they are unable to contribute. One hindrance is because when this is the case, no one supervises their contribution. They pay individually per month, while others can only pay quarterly. Whereas if we have an agreement with officials, they can be the one will pay the contribution for all their employees. Better yet, they are guaranteed to be paid and have SSS," Igharas said.

He added: "We can also educate them on the importance of SSS through our seminar as we discussed recent updates to the SSS, such as improvements in online services and new policies aimed at enhancing member experience."

Jan Danica Asma, a newly-hired employee of UPLB who came from a private company, had the opportunity to update her SSS membership during the National Registration Day and allow her to ensure her membership records were up to date, reflecting her new employment status, and securing her continued access to the benefits provided by the SSS.

"Thankfully, I don't need to go to [an] SSS office physically because of this program. I already updated my dependents and other info here in university and hopefully, I will be able to contribute again in individual voluntary payment."

SSS affirms its continued improvement of systems and processes to provide more convenient and reliable social security protection, especially by spearheading on-ground activities that makes social security more accessible to more Filipinos. (AM/PIA-4A)
