

SMC RESUMES FLOOD-MITIGATING RIVER CLEANUPS IN BULACAN

San Miguel Corporation (SMC) is back cleaning rivers in Bulacan province, after completing a massive effort from October 2022 to September 2024, that removed over 4.15 million metric tons of flood-causing silt and waste from 74 kilometers of rivers, at no cost to government and with no commercial benefit to the company.

This time, SMC is undertaking maintenance cleanups of major rivers draining out to Manila Bay that surround the country's future largest and most modern international gateway.

SMC Chairman and CEO Ramon S. Ang said that over the last 10 months, the company's Better Rivers PH cleanup crews have removed over 500,000 tons of silt and waste from a nine-kilometer stretch of the Maycapiz-Talipit River and Bambang River.

This has further deepened the river channels, which used to be mostly knee-deep prior to any dredging. Today the rivers are more than three meters deep, equivalent to the height of two persons, one standing on top of the other.

Apart from this, SMC has also extended its river cleanup efforts to the Bagumbayan River within the town of Bulacan, Bulacan where it has so far removed over 91,000 tons of silt and waste from 3.3 kilometers of the river.

Ang said that regular maintenance cleanups of these rivers are needed to ensure that gains made through the company's years-long flood mitigation efforts — primarily, the increased flood-carrying capacities and improved flow of these rivers — are preserved.

"Rivers that surround the New Manila International Airport project have a vital function — to drain waters from eastern Bulacan rivers, out to Manila Bay. That is why it's critical that we continuously clean them, and even deepen and expand where needed, to ensure better flood protection and mitigation, not just for the airport, but for eastern Bu-lacan municipalities in the Bulacan sub-river basin," Ang said.

The cleanup has extended to Bagumbayan River within Bulacan town proper.

He explained that before SMC's Bulacan rivers cleanup initiative, decades of accumulated silt and waste coming from upstream areas of Bulacan had significantly shallowed and clogged the Maycapiz-Talipit River, Bambang River, and Meycauayan River in the low-lying coasts —resulting in increased flooding.

The coastal area's low elevation, at below sea level, had also made the municipalities inherently prone to flooding.

In fact, the NMIA project site, an island surrounded by the three rivers, was also submerged over time by shallow waters. Thus, for many decades, the site was used for commercial fish pond operations by previous land owners.

Apart from clearing the three major rivers, which yielded over 1.5 million tons of silt in 2024, SMC also cleaned upstream rivers and tributaries in Bulacan to help ensure efficient water flow towards the three rivers.

The effort has helped mitigate flooding for Guiguinto, Marilao, Balagtas, Bocaue, and Meycauayan. But while the initial cleanup of the three main rivers restored their natural depth of three meters, recent water level monitoring showed that the rivers were again being shallowed by siltation.

This was brought about by numerous typhoons and heavy rainfall experienced last year, which necessitated the reactivation of clean-up operations.

"Keeping the rivers clean and flowing is our long-term commitment, and is integrated into the development and eventual operations of the NMIA. This means that continuous flood risk mitigation efforts for the airport will greatly benefit neighboring municipalities and the rest of eastern Bulacan," Ang said.

Meanwhile, in the western part of the Bulacan—in entirely separate and faraway river basins from the airport project in the east—towns like Hagonoy and Malolos remain prone to flooding whenever the Angat Dam overflows.

For these municipalities, SMC had also previously cleaned up the downstream portions of Malolos Rivers, the Angat-Labangan River, and Pampanga River. However, these areas continue to be flood-prone when water overflows or is released from Angat Dam.

SMC noted that flooding in Bulacan is a complex issue shaped by many factors, among them: the natural rise of sea levels, land subsidence caused by over-extraction of groundwater, inadequate drainage systems, and rapid urbanization in upstream areas.

For a permanent and holistic flood solution to be successful, sustained cooperation among the national and local governments, private sector, and communities will be necessary.

Bathymetric survey shows the Maycapiz-Talipit River prior to SMC's cleanup efforts in September 2022 (top) and its current state (bottom), highlighting improved carrying capacity and flow. From shallow depths of mostly .5 to 1.5 meters, the river is now 3-4 meters deep, allowing for improved flood mitigation and more efficient drainage out to Manila Bay.

EDITORIAL:

Prioritize a meeting between gov't and business leaders

IN AN earlier column, I proposed there is the need for a meeting between government leaders, not only the President, and business leaders – like those involved in conglomerates like Ramon S. Ang, Manny Pangilinan, Ricky Razon and the Ayalas – to find out ways and means of solving the problem of rampant corruption which the country is suffering from.

I believe this meeting is necessary, Santa Banana, to resolve, once and for all, rampant and massive corruption in connection with government infrastructure projects.

Yes, we have the ICI (Independent Commission for Infrastructure), created by President Marcos Jr., to find out ways and means for solving this problem of rampant corruption, but I believe the President should call for a meeting between high government officials led by himself and business leaders to prioritize and adapt a system whereby the people's money cannot just be stolen.

Take for instance the problem of infrastructure projects here in Metro Manila and nearby provinces and in Mindoro, where the district engineers have the power to decide what should be prioritized .

And they have the power to decide kickbacks for government people.

I am just wondering how in the world a simple district engineer can decide by himself which infrastructure projects should be prioritized.

Santa Banana, that means the district engineers of the DPWH have the power to decide who gets the money and even decide whether a project will be adapted or not, giving them the power to create a project or not.

Santa Banana, they also have the power to create so-called "ghost projects."

I had an earlier column where I mentioned the necessity of government officials. Including the President, meeting with business leaders which I believe can solve the system of rampant corruption, which in effect amounted to billions of people's money stolen by those involved in government infrastructure.

This way, a meeting between government officials including the President and business leaders can resolve this problem of rampant corruption ending in the creation of ghost infrastructure projects and the billions of pesos in kickbacks going into the hands of public officials.

I believe that, more than anything else, what should be resolved is the system of building infrastructure projects, some of which are called ghost projects.

Business leaders like the Ayalas, Ramon Ang, Ricky Razon, Manny Pangilinan and the Sy family of SM and the Villars can help the President and high government officials in that meeting.

Reports have it that growth targets cannot be achieved this year primarily because of rampant corruption, where investors hesitate to get involved in Philippine business.

A meeting between high government officials including the President and business leaders like those mentioned in Fortune magazine, is essential and necessary if we expect once and for all to resolve this problem of rampant corruption.

Other countries have progressed because they have learned how to resolve corruption.

It is for this reason, my gulay, why there is the urgent need to prioritize this meeting of high government officials including President Marcos Jr. and business leaders.

Our country cannot go on like this, with just trying to investigate those involved in anomalies and jailing them. After jailing them, what next?

There is the urgent need to act fast.

If there is a will, there is always a way.

More than the nation's problems of poverty and lack of jobs, the biggest problem now is rampant corruption.

As a Filipino, I hide my head in shame because of our continued rampant corruption.

Santa Banana, this must stop. We cannot go on like this. Corruption must stop.

CAYETANO...

Senate Minority Leader Alan Peter Cayetano on Thursday urged Filipinos to stay focused on demanding accountability from the real masterminds of corruption instead of being distracted by political noise and side issues.

Cayetano said the government's anti-corruption drive has turned into a "circus" that damages the country's image abroad and diverts public attention from those who truly profit from corruption.

"Eyes on the ball tayo, ililigawin tayo ng mga mastermind," Cayetano said in an interview with reporters on October 23, 2025.

"Hindi sustainable y'ung paraan kung paano natin na-address ang massive corruption. We have to be decisive, kailangan may major reforms, tunay na pagbabago. Kailangan may maku-long," he added.

He warned that the way corruption cases are being handled has become selective and politicized, creating public confusion and mistrust.

"Napaglalaruan tayo and I am fed up with being played around with," he said.

Citing the issue of Senator Joel Villanueva's dismissed case as an example, Cayetano said this should not distract the Senate or the public from real corruption cases, noting it was likely just an incident.

advertence on the part of the Ombudsman's staff.

Ombudsman Jesus Crispin Remulla had sought to enforce a 2016 dismissal order against Villanueva over the alleged misuse of his 2008 Priority Development Assistance Fund (PDAF) when he was still a congressman. But former Ombudsman Samuel Martires clarified the case was already dismissed in 2019 after granting Villanueva's motion for reconsideration.

"Klarong-klarong po iyan. Wala siyang (Remulla) isusulat sa Senate President sapagkat na-dismiss na y'ung kaso na yan," he said.

The senator warned that turning corruption issues into a daily political spectacle weakens institutions and hurts the country's reputation among investors and overseas Filipinos.

"The way we're doing it na parang circus araw-araw, lubusang naapektuhan ang image ng ating bansa," he said.

He urged Filipinos to remain vigilant and to focus public pressure on accountability and reform rather than on political drama.

"Hindi ako tumanda sa public service at pulitika para paglaruan ng mga corrupt. Let's not be distracted. Ang tunay na laban ay laban sa mga mastermind, hindi sa mga palabas," he said.

SAN PABLO CITY, Laguna (Dec. 8, 2025) – The Prime Alliance of Publishers, Editors, and Reporters (PAPER.PH), Inc. convened its National Press Congress last Saturday, celebrating its sixth anniversary with a theme: "Guardians of Accountability: Uniting the Press Against Corruption."

The gathering brought together media practitioners, educators, and local officials to underscore the press's vital role in democracy and address modern challenges to truth and information.

PAPER.PH National President Bonifacio Dacayanan echoed the call for solidarity within the industry.

"Ang malayang pamamahayag ay haligi ng demokrasya," Dacayanan stressed.

The discussions extended beyond the media, touching on national character.

A Department of Education representative, Sharry Ann Ganareal, outlined shifts in educational focus.

"Hindi na uso ang Abakada at babebobu lang; phonological awareness, pagsusulat at pagbabasa ang focus ngayon sa pagtuturo," the elementary school teacher said.

She also expressed concern over resilience.

"Nagpapalaki tayo ng mga batang babasagin. Kailangang patatagin ang mga susunod na mamamayang Pilipino," Ganareal said.

The threat of misinformation was a recurring concern. Laguna Board Member Angelica Jones Alarva advocated for traditional media.

"Magbasa ng dyaryo dahil nandito ang totoong balita. Hindi sila nagsusulat ng kasinungalingan. Malaking tulong ng socmed pero ang disadvantage ay ang paglipana ng fake news."

Guest of honor, Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office Director Imelda Papin, highlighted the press's watchdog function and the perils of the digital age.

"The press is not just the storyteller, it is the nation's watchdog," she said.

"Sa ngayong panahon na ito, malaki ang kaibahan, nandyan ang socmed.

Kapag may trending, yun na ang pinag-uusapan. Sometimes this is not good. Para lang may pag-usapan, kung minsan hindi tama ang inilalabas. It's very scary. Dahil kung gusto kang sirain, in a few minutes, masisira ka," Papin stated, noting the speed and potential damage of social media trends.

The congress served as a platform reinforcing the critical, yet challenged, role of a free and responsible press as a guardian of public accountability and adopted a Declaration denouncing corruption.

CAVITE WELCOMES BARMM DELEGATION FOR BENCHMARKING VISIT

Provincial Government of Cavite warmly welcomed officials from the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao (BARMM) during a courtesy visit and benchmarking activity held on November 26, at the Office of the Governor.

Representing Governor Abeng Remulla, Chief of Staff Mr. Ferdinand A. Belamide and Provincial Tourism Officer Ms. Elinia Imelda Rozelle

S. Sangalang personally received the BARMM delegation, which was headed by DOT Regional Director Marites Maguin-dra. The Cavite officials extended the province's appreciation for selecting Cavite as one of their key learning and collaboration sites.

The visit formed part of BARMM's continuing initiative to strengthen interregional cooperation and adopt best practices in governance, development planning, and tourism enhancement.

Cavite officials shared insights on the province's progressive governance framework, innovative development programs, and tourism strategies that continue to drive its economic growth.

As a gesture of goodwill, the Provincial Government of Cavite presented the guests with a simple token of appreciation handcrafted by Habing Maragondon, a proud local cultural enterprise that highlights Caviteño craftsmanship and tradition.

The benchmarking activity concluded with a shared interest in further exploring avenues for co-operation, reinforcing both regions' commitment to advancing regional development through strengthened intergovernmental partnerships. - R. Dones Remulla...

Cavite 7th District Representative Crispin Diego "Ping" Remulla refilled a measure that seeks to exempt qualified indigent Filipinos from payment of professional examination fees.

Under the measure, qualified indigent students shall be exempt from all professional examinations, defined in the measure as licensure examinations administered by the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) and other government certifying bodies.

Remulla commended the enactment of Republic Act No. 10931 or the Universal Access to Quality Tertiary Education Act, albeit he emphasized that government support should not end after students' graduation from tertiary education.

"RA 10931 is a significant milestone in making education a right rather than a privilege. However, the government's support should not end there. We need to see it through to the end," Remulla said.

"Indigent graduates will face a new challenge upon graduation, which is shouldering the costs of licensure examinations required to enter their profession. Saying naman kung hindi nila ma-practice ang pinag-aralan nila dahil lang hindi makapagexam," he added.

Remulla further explained that our society should be one where talent is not wasted simply because a student was born into poverty.

"Kung may kayahan at disiplina, hindi dapat maging hadlang ang kahirapahan para sa mas magandang buhay," he emphasized.

Remulla, whose advocacy is education, believes that it is the duty of the government to ensure that no student's future is hindered by poverty.

SSS releases P18.8 billion in 13th month pension to 3.7 million pensioners

Quezon City, Philippines, 9 December 2025 — In line with the directive of President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr. and emphasized by Finance Secretary Frederick D. Go with the Social Security Commission, the Social Security System (SSS) has successfully credited its annual cash gift to pensioners – the 13th month pension – in two batches on the first week of December 2025, ensuring additional financial support during the holiday season.

The first batch,

derscored the weight carried by media practitioners in shaping public understanding. "Media is very powerful. Hindi biro ang maging isang journalist, mahirap ito," Alip said. "Di sapat ang salitang salamat sana sa pamamagitan nitong mga pagkilala sa inyong mga pinagkakapitang mga media partners, maramdaman niyo ang aming pagmamahal pagpapahalaga sa mga kagaya niyo." Noting that responsible reporting remains central to ensuring communities receive accurate and meaningful information, he added.

The event gathered media partners from Luzon, Visayas, and Mindanao, reflecting CARD MRI's wide network of storytellers who help bring its programs to the public — from livelihood support to social protection initiatives.

During the event, awards were given under the "Huwarang Tagabando" category, which honored media groups that consistently deliver stories of transformation within their regions.

Amihan and Laguna Express were awarded for South Luzon; Newscore Bulacan and Facts and Figures received recognition for Central & North Luzon; in the Visayas, Boracay Island News and Daily Guardian took home the honors; while in Mindanao, Peridico Norte and Mindanao Journal were celebrated.

The program continued with the "Kasangga sa Pag-unlad" awards, which acknowledged CARD MRI's long-standing media partners. In the print category, Rapids Journal, Wednesday Herald, and DateLine Weekly Newspapers were recognized. In broadcast media, Radyo Pilipinas Lucena and DZJV Calamba received distinctions. Laguna Courier and Radio Natin Calapan were also presented with the Natatanging Kabalikatang Taon for their unwavering support of the organization's initiatives.

A highlight of the ceremony was the announcement of winners for the UMALOHOKAN Essay Writing Contest, designed to inspire creative writing aligned with the group's advocacy. Ms. Carmi Isles of Radyo Pilipinas Lucena claimed second place, while Mr. Cyril Cabrera of TriMedia Digital (Panguil Bay Journal) from Ozamiz released on 1 December 2025, covered around 2.13 million pensioners with a total amount of P10.5-B credited to their accounts. The second batch, credited on 4 December 2025, covered around 1.53 million pensioners, amounting to P8.3-B. In total, P18.8-B was distributed to around 3.66 million pensioners.

SSS President and CEO Robert Joseph M. de Claro said the annual cash gift is part of SSS' commitment to support its pensioners during the holiday season.

"This is our way of giving back to our pensioners who have contributed to the System during their productive years. We hope this additional benefit brings joy and relief to them and their families this Christmas," de Claro said.

This year's 13th month pension is higher for pensioners as of 31 August 2025 following

City was named the overall champion.

As the event came to a close, CARD MRI reiterated the crucial role of the media in telling stories of hope and progress.

By continuing to work closely with regional storytellers, the organization aims to reach more Filipinos with programs and services that uplift livelihoods and strengthen communities followed by a simple dinner fellowships at Casa San Pablo, San Pablo City, Laguna.

Gatchalian Pushes Stronger Gov't Capacity to Rehabilitate Young Offenders

The country will have five additional regional Bahay Pag-Asa (BPA) facilities, as Senator Win Gatchalian pushed for funding for these facilities, emphasizing the critical need for the government to enhance its capacity to provide appropriate interventions for children in conflict with the law (CICL).

The senator had specifically pushed for the allocation of P200 million for the establishment of five BPA centers in 2026.

"The BPA facilities are a critical lifeline for young individuals to reform and rejoin society productively. Tulad ng ginawa namin sa Valenzuela, nakita natin kung paano natulungan ng Bahay Pag-asa ang maraming kabataan na naligaw ng landas na nais makapagtapos ng pag-aaral at makapagsimula ng bagong buhay," said Gatchalian.

As chairperson of the Senate Committee on Finance, Gatchalian emphasized the need to ensure that the proposed budget gives priority to the needs of disadvantaged constituents, particularly young Filipinos.

According to the DSWD, the country has 118 BPA centers that provide temporary shelter, rehabilitation programs, and support for reintegrating CICLs into society. However, many of these facilities have limited capacity.

Mayor Davey Reyes-Chua Expresses Gratitude to Governor Abeng Remulla for Continued Support to Noveleta Residents

"Maraming salamat po, Governor Abeng Remulla, at hindi mo talaga nakakalimutan kami dito sa Bayan ng Noveleta. Sana mas marami ka pang mapasaya dito sa ating programang 'Ugnayan sa Barangay.'" – Mayor Davey Reyes-Chua to Governor Abeng Remulla

Joining Mayor Chua in this important event were First District Board Member Jgys Gandia and some members of the Noveleta municipal council, who also showed their full support for the Ugnayan sa Barangay program. Their collective presence underscores the commitment of local leaders to work together with the provincial government to address the needs of the community.

Governor Abeng

Remulla, together with Vice Governor Ram Revilla-Bautista, extended their early Christmas gift to the residents of Noveleta, providing each attendee with 5kg of rice and snacks.

This initiative highlights the ongoing commitment of the provincial leadership to support and uplift the communities of Cavite, especially during the holiday season. - F. Tamio
